20 Radio antenna - general information

The radio antenna is built into the rear window. In order to improve reception, an amplifier is used to boost the signal to the radio/cassette unit. The amplifier unit is located behind the left hand rear C-pillar trim panel.

To gain access to the antenna amplifier unit, carefully remove the C-pillar trim panel as described in Chapter 11, Section 27, disconnecting the wiring from the interior light as the panel is removed. Disconnect the antenna lead and wiring, then remove the retaining screws and remove the amplifier (see illustration) . Installation is the reverse of removal.
